A Message From The Chairman of the Board

LINQ360 Innovation Center Brings More Diversification to Nevada

"With companies like LINQ360, Nevada holds a steady course in growth and diversification."

More concentrated efforts in economic diversification can be seen in the opening of the LINQ360 Innovation Center, a "technology showplace" in Southern Nevada. The first-of-its-kind center brings together a multitude of technology based businesses that include several hospitality and technology firms under one roof and making a national mark in the industry through its hands-on, integrated technological experiences.

LINQ360 Innovation Center is located at 9555 Hillwood Drive in Summerlin, encompasses 8,500 square feet and is occupied by Microsoft Hospitality Ecosystem Partners. By creating a technology hub for the hospitality industry to teaming up with community organizations and eventually schools, LINQ360 is preparing to have a local impact and be a model for others to follow. Governor Brian Sandoval admits, "The center shines a spotlight on the positive benefits a place like this can have in this state."

LINQ360's members at the center include: Microsoft, SuiteLinq, Cenium, Symon, Red Rock Software, Alcatel-Lucent, HP, Nevada Development Authority, Crestron, Hardly Square, MiCamp, Shift4, IBoxfilms, Video River Networks, Rainmaker, Summit Partners and RiteWire. "The Nevada Development Authority has been a major partner with LINQ360 and its opening. In addition, other technology-focused businesses have expressed interest in relocating to the business park where the center is situated," said LINQ360 President Scott Garrison.

"This opening is a feather in the cap for our state as we continue to strive to diversify our economy," said Somer Hollingsworth, president and chief executive officer of the Nevada Development Authority. "This center illustrates a compelling story that Nevada is a prime home for technology firms, and opportunities exist for diverse businesses to thrive here."

The center and its showroom, with a mission to captivate, educate and entertain, are making a mark in the hospitality sector through an ingenious approach involving hands-on demonstrations for visitors. Designed to simulate a hotel environment and showcase the benefits of each solution provider, LINQ360 visitors will be immersed in interactive experiences from the moment they enter the facility.

According to Microsoft's Michael Infante, LINQ360 provides the ideal venue to convey the benefits of the hospitality ecosystem to executives at the epicenter of the market. "Our mission was to create a facility to collaborate, integrate and innovate for the world's leading hotel brands," he said. "With so many complex systems required to operate modern high-end hotels, the task of selecting solution providers is often a daunting one. The goal of the Microsoft Hospitality Ecosystem has always been to align best-in-class partners to make these decisions easier for hotel operators. Now with the LINQ360 Innovation Center, hospitality executives can experience them all in one place. It's really the ideal way to convey the benefits of our truly integrated technology solutions."

Nevada Development Authority plans to work with other technology firms that have conveyed interest in relocating to the same business park. With companies like LINQ360, Nevada holds a steady course in economic growth and diversification.

The Nevada Development Authority is Southern Nevada's premier economic development agency. For 55 years, the NDA has continued to diversify and improve the economy of Southern Nevada. For more information call 702-791-0000, or visit www.nevadadevelopment.org or www.move2vegas.biz.

Chairman's Circle

Chairman's Circle members make the highest level of annual contributions from $25,000 - $100,000 to the NDA and experience the greatest amount of opportunity, influence and connectivity available within the organization. NDA extends appreciation and gratitude to these highly dedicated business leaders whose support helps form a solid foundation of continuous involvement in Southern Nevada's business climate.

Jones Vargas Acts As Legal Historian For New Lawmakers

As one of Nevada's oldest and most respected law firms, Jones Vargas assists its many corporate and individual clients in navigating their way through the complex legal landscape of the Nevada Legislature. With more registered, full-time lobbyists than any other firm in the state, Jones Vargas has played a vital and necessary role in the legislative process. With very few exceptions, every piece of legislation considered by the Nevada State Legislature affects businesses in some manner or another.

As the NDA strives to improve economic conditions in Southern Nevada via business development and recruitment, Jones Vargas works to make those goals attainable at the legislative level. During the semi-annual legislative session, particularly one in which term limits have eliminated the positions of many senior lawmakers as is the case this year, it is difficult for freshmen representatives to absorb the depth of information they are presented with. In cases such as these, trusted firms like Jones Vargas are able to act as legal historians of sort, providing background information and points of view from business owners, corporations, citizens and other key stakeholders. They are able to supply the education and information necessary for legislators to make informed decisions, by presenting all sides of an issue and providing perspective representatives may not otherwise receive.

This session, more than most, the Legislature has placed a priority on creating jobs and attracting business to Nevada. However, the manner in which this goal is accomplished is the subject of debate depending on the political philosophy of the individual legislators. Some legislators are of the opinion that in order to attract new business and create new jobs, the government must maintain or increase funding in the education system, which would require revenue enhancements – i.e. increased taxes. Others believe that a beneficial business and regulatory environment, with limited government intervention and taxes, is necessary to attract and create a vibrant business environment.

With a firm that was born and bred in the Silver State with members including Herb Jones, George Vargas, Bill Raggio, Joe Brown, Jim Wadhams and John Sande III, Jones Vargas understands what it takes to get business done in Nevada. Whether your business interests lie in gaming, energy, insurance, banking, transportation, petroleum, real estate, mining or otherwise, Jones Vargas has a team that is ready and willing to help you ensure that your voice is heard.

Joe Brown is the President of Jones Vargas, with more than 35 years as a member of the firm. Brown is AV-rated by Martindale Hubbell Law Directory and is listed as one of the "Best Lawyers in America" in the field of government relations. He served on the Foreign Claims Settlement Commission of the United States from 1981-88 as an appointee by President Ronald Reagan and his public service includes acting presently as a member of the Nevada Gaming Commission.

NDA President's Council members make significant annual contributions of $10,000 - $24,999 and provide valuable resources of time, talent and treasure to serve the mission of the NDA. The NDA extends appreciation for the support and financial commitment the President's Council organization provides.

Anthem Blue Cross and Blue Shield in Nevada

Anthem Blue Cross and Blue Shield Cares For Nevadans

Anthem Blue Cross and Blue Shield in Nevada is the state's second largest health benefits provider and the only one licensed to sell insurance in every county. Among the oldest Nevada health insurers (established in 1969), Anthem's operations are headquartered in Las Vegas and staffed with a friendly and knowledgeable local team – from a state president to sales staff and medical personnel. The company employs approximately 150 Nevadans in offices in Las Vegas and Reno.

They offer a full spectrum of benefits, including medical, dental, vision, life and disability, pharmacy, behavioral health and an Employee Assistance Program. Not only do Anthem's total benefits offerings meet the needs of a diverse workforce, they also eliminate the need for multiple carriers.

Anthem's broad variety of products for small and large employers and individuals are innovative, simple to administer and affordable. For example, Anthem's Lumenos Consumer-Driven Health Plans put consumers in control of their health care dollars and offer incentives to spend wisely and demand better health care quality and value. EmployeeElect, a portfolio of 22 health plans, puts control and flexibility in the hands of small group employers. Employers can choose to offer one, a mix-and-match or all 22 plans to their employees.

Anthem is proud to offer one of the largest provider networks in Nevada. Anthem is a member of the Blue Cross and Blue Shield Association, which means that members also have access to the BlueCard provider network – nationwide and around the world – when they are away from home.

Anthem is dedicated to serving the community in Nevada. Employees at Anthem and its corporate foundation last year contributed more than $271,000 to philanthropic and civic organizations throughout the state, including sponsoring the American Heart Association, American Lung Association and the Nevada Business Magazine's annual Healthcare Heroes awards.

Mike Mixer, managing partner of Colliers International – Las Vegas, recently announced the firm has successfully sold out Post Business Park one year ahead of schedule. Post Business Park, located on Post Road just west of Jones Boulevard in the southwest submarket, was originally projected as an 18-month sales and leasing project. “Dan Doherty and Patti Dillon did an amazing job of identifying qualified buyers and marketing this property,” Mixer said. “Their experience and track record in this market were key factors in closing these transactions in such a short time frame,” he said. Doherty and Dillon represented First Southern National Bank in the completion of seven sales and two leases for the nine-building industrial project.

The project also included a custom glass in-lay garage door, clear floor finishing to the existing concrete flooring and an open ceiling design.
